Preface

The authors of the test questions in the field of pharmacology and toxicology are experienced faculty members of the Department of Pharmacology of Poznan University of Medical Sciences, who have been teaching pharmacology and toxicology to the students of the MD programme for nearly three decades. The questions reflect the educators' extensive experience in teaching this subject, and they refer to both general pharmacology and aspects related to pharmacotherapy and clinical pharmacology. The questions highlight key topics that every student of the MD programme should master, and solving the tests is design to facilitate learning complex problems of pharmacology and toxicology, as well as to prepare for the final exam.
